President of the Slovak Republic appoints a new judge of the Constitutional Court

Today in the Presidential Palace in Bratislava the President of the Slovak Republic Zuzana Čaputová appointed a new judge of the Constitutional Court of the Slovak Republic, who is Mr Robert Šorl. The Plenum of the Constitutional Court has been one judge short since the resignation of former judge Mojmír Mamojka in May 2020, and is now complete again.

The Constitutional Court will immediately adopt an amended work schedule required by the appointment of the new judge.
